Questions to Consider

- Does data indicate possible grade inflation?
 - Yes - but not just at TC: “A is by far the most common grade on both four-year and two-year college campuses (more than 42 percent of grades). At four-year schools, awarding of A's has been going up five to six percentage points per decade and A's are now three times more common than they were in 1960.”
- What accounts for significant performance differences between dual credit and non-dual credit students?
- Better students?
- More support?

Databits

As part of TC's application for the 2018 Achieving the Dream Leah Meyer Austin Award, we also started "Data Bits," a newsletter presenting data related to prompts required in the application process. Data is disaggregated by gender, race/ethnicity, and Pell status where possible.

Databits

About TC Data Bits 2017-2018:

TC was invited to apply for the prestigious Achieving the Dream 2018 Leah Meyer Austin Award. The application required a response to an Overview Statement and five narrative questions. All responses required supporting evidence in the form of data that was disaggregated by gender, race/ethnicity, and Pell status where possible. The newsletter series will communicate information submitted as part of the award application. Readers may view the complete application on MyTC under the new Achieving the Dream tab. Award recipients will be announced at the ATD DREAM Conference in February 2018.

Issue Number 1 is based on the Overview Statement addressing the following prompt in the application:

Provide an overview describing why your institution should be considered for the Leah Meyer Austin Award. Briefly describe what has led to increased student success at the institution, with particular attention to the success of underrepresented and underserved students, and indicate how your institution has tried to close achievement gaps. Furthermore, indicate which of the seven areas of the Institutional Capacity Assessment framework (<http://achievethe dream.org/about-us/our->

Preparing ADN Students for the NCLEX-RN Exam

ADN Program Exam Policy

1. Exam policies are developed by faculty
2. Exams are computerized and given through LMS
3. Unit exams all have 50 questions
4. Final exams all have 100 questions
5. Allow 1.5 minutes per question
6. Difficulty level of exams increases each semester
 - NCLEX-RN licensure exam questions are at apply level and higher

Percent of Exam at Apply Level or Higher

Semester	Percentage
1st	50%
2nd	60%
3rd	75%
4th	90%

Bloom's Taxonomy Framework

Creating an Exam

- Faculty co-teach theory course: Teaching Teams
 - Two teams, or sections, per course
 - Example: RNSG 1413.01 and RNSG 1413.02
- Each team creates their own unit exams and final exam
- Prior to giving an exam, the teams meet to compare the exams to ensure:
 - The difficulty level meets requirement
 - There are similar number of questions per topic
 - The questions and answer choices make sense, are unambiguous, and correct, etc.

Reviewing and Grading Exams

After exams are given, each team evaluates the item analysis for each question

- Determine if a question needs to be “dropped” or partial credit given
- Obtains input from other teams
- Compare average score between current and past cohorts

NCLEX-RN Pass Rates: 1st Time Test Takers

- 2020 and 2021 “COVID” Graduates
- Average 74 graduates per cohort
- Includes Basic ADN and VN to ADN Transition graduates

	2021	2020	2019	2018	2017
TC ADN/RN Graduates	93.15%	87.88%	85.88%	91.89%	92.96%
National Average for RN	82.13%	86.76%	88.07%	88.56%	86.94%

Exam Item Writing Workshops

- Every 3-5 years
- Choose a consultant to lead 2-day workshop on campus
- Teams analyze their own exams; make improvements
- Learn current trends and evidence-based teaching and testing strategies
- Cost efficient

Nursing Education Conferences

Send 1 faculty member to a national conference

- Schedule time for dissemination to other faculty

Have a consultant come to campus to provide faculty development

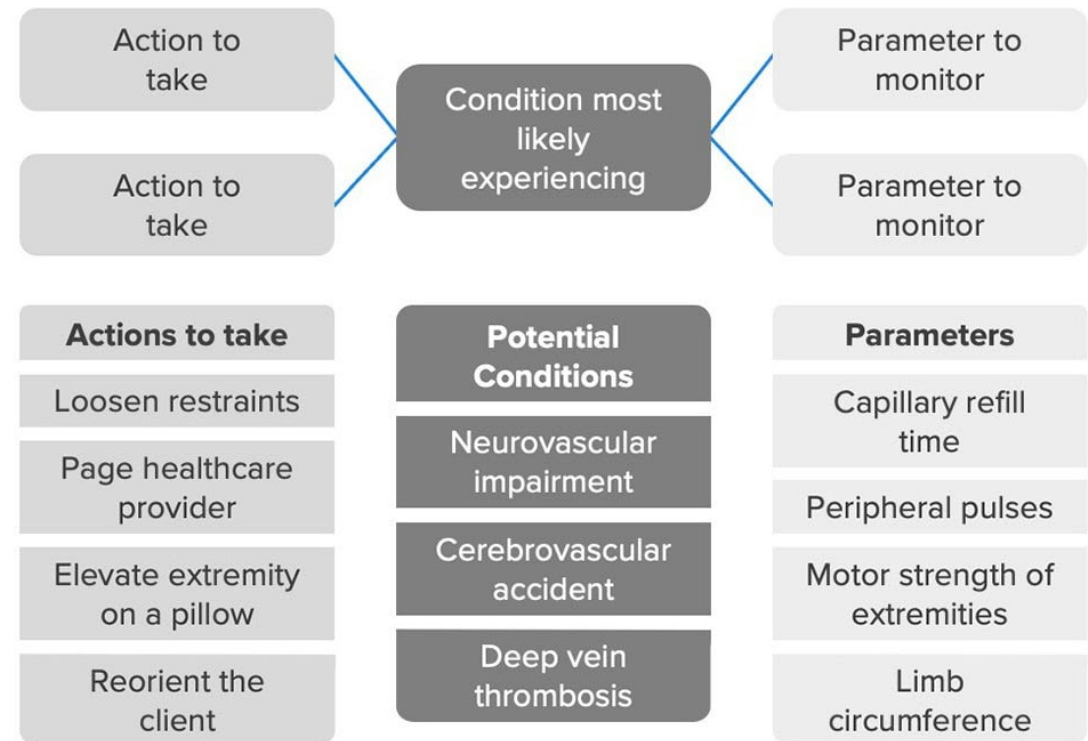

- Active Learning in the Classroom
- Clinical Creativity
- Retention Matters for All
- Next Generation NCLEX Learning Strategies
- Meeting the Needs of the Multigenerational Classroom
- Technology to Enhance Learning

NCLEX-RN Test Plan

New Item Types Start April 2023

- Drag and drop
- Highlight
- Bowtie
- Case studies
- Cloze: fill in the blank from a dropdown menu

Stay Strong

September 29 - Modern research shows us that making even slight adjustments to the way we inhale and exhale can jump-start athletic performance, rejuvenate internal organs, halt snoring, asthma, and autoimmune disease, and even straighten scoliotic spines. None of this should be possible, and yet it is. There is nothing more essential to our health and well-being than breathing: take air in, let it out, repeat twenty-five thousand times a day. Yet, as a species, humans have lost the ability to breathe correctly, and with grave consequences.

December 8 - Somewhere out beyond the edge of the universe there is a library that contains an infinite number of books, each one the story of another reality. One tells the story of your life as it is, along with another book for the other life you could have lived if you had made a different choice at any point in your life. While we all may wonder how our lives might have been, what if you had the chance to go to the library and see for yourself? Would any of these other lives truly be better?

October 20 - Julian Jessop, an eccentric, lonely artist and septuagenarian believes that most people aren't really honest with one another. But what if they were? And so he writes - in a plain, green, journal - the truth about his own life and leaves it in his local cafe. It is run to the incredibly tidy and efficient Monica, who furtively adds her own entry and leaves the book in the wine bar across the street. Before long, the others who find the green notebook add the truths about their own deepest selves - and soon find each other in real life at Monica's Cafe.
